Staticizer is a plugin for Joomla! that allow you to redirect the static elements of your site to an alternative domain. The pretended effect is to deliver this kind of content from a cookieless domain to improve the rating that search engines will rank your site.

Staticizer does this internally within Joomla! without requiring any changes to your article's content. This version is the first one that is offered to the general interest and, though it has been tested in our own servers, it may fail in a different environment so that it is offered without warranties of any kind.

You may download it in the link at the bottom of this page and you can access the details of its working inners and how to configure it in the documentation page.

If you want to leave a comment you may use the lower part of this page because, right now, there is no forum enabled. And if you like it you may also post a review in the Joomla! Extensions page so that others may benefit from your experience.

We hope that it is what you are looking forward to scratch those extra points so difficult to get to improve the position of your site and then be useful for you.
